The previous office action contained a typo (Ishii et al, US 6,233,270 rather than US 6,235,270 shown on PTO-892),

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1, 4-19 and 22-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 1 recites "a silica base particle having an average diameter of up to about 300 nanometers" and "wherein the particles have an average diameter of from 10 to 150 nanometers". Thus, it is confusing and indefinite since the diameter of the coated particle (150 nanometers, for example) is smaller than the silica base particle (300 nanometers, for example).

The recited "the particles" in line 4 of claim 11 lacks an antecedent basis.

Claim 19 recites "an average diameter of up to about 350 nanometers" and a "diameter of from 30 to 90 nm" for the same coated particle, and thus it is also confusing and indefinite. The recited "the particles" in line 7 of claim 19 lacks an antecedent basis since "(a coated) particle" is recited in line 4. .

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

Art Unit: 1714

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1, 4, 5, 7 and 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over WO 03/008186.

Rejection is maintained for reason of record with following response.

Applicant asserts that the PP3 on page 8 shows nitride passivating coatings, but pages 8 and 9 teach that as one of illustrative combinations (page 8, lines 8-9), and an invention is not limited to particular teachings only, and thus choosing a silica substrate and deposited inorganic materials such as zirconia or titanium dioxide would be a prima facie obviousness absent showing otherwise. See In re Mills, 477 F2d 649, 176 USPQ 196 (CCPA 1972); Reference must be considered for all that it discloses and must not be limited to its preferred embodiments or working examples. The instantly recited refractive index would be an inherent property of zirconia or titanium dioxide coated silica in WO. With respect to a photocurable polymer resin of claim 11, applicant assert that WO does not teach dental materials, but the preamble or intended use has no probative value. Applicant also asserts that thermoplastic or thermoset resin does not describe a photocurable resin inherently and that there are many ways to cure polymers. Applicant is correct, but choosing a photocurable polymer resin in WO would be a prima facie obviousness absent showing otherwise.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
